Topics include:

The Generational Discussions:

- Successors Generation Leadership Discussion - This facilitated session affords a unique opportunity for the next generation of family media owners to share their concerns, their successes and their expectations as they prepare to lead their businesses.
- Incumbent Generation Leadership Discussion - This facilitated session encourages confidential discussion exclusively for and among current or transitioning family owners.

The program is designed for:

Newspapers (dailies, weeklies and groups) owned and operated by both multi-generational families and for those that are independently owned.

It is ideal for those running the daily operations and their family member successors (CEOs, chief operating officers, publishers, etc.)

Non-family CEOs and senior executives are invited to attend with family members.

From humble beginnings and a small investment, The Newport Daily News turns 175

The first edition of The Newport Daily News in Rhode Island was four pages and published on May 4, 1846. The price was one cent per copy, or $3 for a yearly subscription. It was believed by many in town to be a frivolous enterprise, but after publishing several editions, the paper always sold out.
