On March 5, 2020, three cases of the coronavirus were confirmed in Maryland. This week Maryland exceeded 22,000 confirmed cases of the coronavirus.

Over the last 58 days, medical professionals, police, fire, EMS first responders, journalists, utility workers, grocery store workers, delivery drivers, educators, construction workers, watermen, manufacturers, spiritual leaders and so many others have worked tirelessly to keep our lives as normal as possible. They have worked together to keep our communities safe and functioning during this coronavirus crisis.

We commend your resilience and the endless perseverance you've displayed to inform, protect and serve us through these stressful times. We recognize the sacrifice you are making for the short, and longer term, benefit of our community.

We will make it through this together!
